EIGHT LYNCHED BY MOB IN GEORGIA

One White Man and Seven Negroes Taken from Jail, Lined Up Against a Fence and Riddled With Bullets Amid Wildest Excitement.

By Associated Press. Watkinsville, Ga., June 29.—A mob entered the jail here this morning at 2 o'clock and took nine prisoners, eight of whom were shot to death, the ninth escaping, being thought dead by the mob. The prisoners were Lon J. Aycock, white, charged with the murder of F. M. Holbrook and wife some weeks ago; Rich Robinson, Lewis Robinson, Claude Elder, negroes, charged with the Holbrook murder; Sandy Price, a negro, charged with attempted rape on Mrs. Weldon Dooley on Tuesday; Rich Allen, under sentence of death for the murder of another negro; Gene Yerby, a negro, charged with burglary and Bob Harris, a negro, charged with shooting another negro. The mob came quietly into town about 2 o'clock, all masked, and went to the house of Town Marshal Alken, forced him to unlock the jail, and once inside forced Jailor Crow to open the cells. The mob took every prisoner except one, Ed Thrasher, a negro charged with gambling, who was paroled. The mob took the prisoners a hundred yards from the jail, tied them to fence posts by the necks, and fired five volleys into their bodies. All were killed except Joe Patterson, a negro, charged with pulling a gun on another negro. He was shot several times in the body, but was alive when the mob left and will recover. Aycock protested his innocence to the last. A. W. Ashford, a prominent citizen, met the mob and begged for Aycock on the ground that the evidence did not prove his guilt. He also urged that those not charged with capital crimes be saved. Jailor Crow also begged for the same prisoners, but in vain. The rattle of the volleys aroused the sleeping town. Scores of citizens sprang from their beds in alarm, not knowing what had happened. The wildest excitement prevailed everywhere and half-clad men and women hurriedly left their homes to investigate. Their eyes fell upon a gruesome scene. Eight men, seven negroes and one white, were lying upon their faces, their bodies ragged with bullet wounds and blood and brains scattered in all directions. The mob was nowhere in evidence within a moment or two after the execution. The strength of the mob has been variously estimated. The jailor declares that there were many armed men, all wearing masks, who appeared suddenly at the jail door. He says it was useless for him to resist, as their manner and numbers indicated that a parley was death for himself. He delivered the keys to the mob believing that it was better to do this than to resist which he was told would mean the dynamiting of the prison. Gaining admission to the jail the mob first arrested last yesterday evening by a posse of forty citizens of Oconee county, and delivered to the jailor. At the time of his arrest a lynching was narrowly averted. Price was charged by Mrs. Weldon Dooley, who lives in the suburbs of Watkinsville, with having attempted criminal assault Wednesday afternoon. No further trouble is anticipated as court is near at hand. GOVERNOR WILL OFFER A SUITABLE REWARD. Atlanta, June 29.—Governor Terrill stated to the Associated Press tonight that he was making a rigid investigation of the Watkinsville affair, which he designated by the word "Horrible," and that he would do everything in his power to bring the guilty persons to justice. "The men should have had a fair trial," stated the governor. He will offer a suitable reward.

SUBMARINE TORPEDO BOATS USED BY TOGO

LARGE PART OF THE DAMAGE INFLICTED UPON RUSSIAN FLEET IN STRAITS OF KOREA WAS DUE TO OPERATIONS OF VESSELS OF THIS CLASS.

By Associated Press. Washington, June 29.—The Japanese government has admitted that submarine torpedo boats were used in the naval fight in the Japan strait. It has been known for the past year that the Russians had a number of these modern sea war engines, but it does not appear from the reports that they had an opportunity to test them. Something more than a year ago one of the two companies in this country which made submarine boats sold to Russia a number of these vessels which were shipped "knocked-down" to the Baltic. It was regarded as somewhat strange that Japan had apparently taken no steps toward strengthening her navy by the purchase of such vessels. It appears now that Japan instead of trailing behind Russia was really ahead of her. Japanese naval attaches have watched every movement in connection with the development of the sub-marine type of naval vessels. A Japanese officer is reported to have taken a submarine trip in the first boat of the Holland type which was purchased by the navy department and upon his report to the Tokyo authorities his government acted. Japan did not buy vessels of this character in the United States, but she did purchase the material and supplies from which a small fleet of these insidious war vessels were constructed. This material was quietly shipped to Japan and it was accompanied by one of the most expert sub-marine boat builders in the United States. He is reported to have constructed not less than ten of these boats within the past six months and it is also asserted by those in position to know that a very large part of the damage inflicted by Togo upon the fleet of Rojestevesky was through the submarine torpedo boats, designed by Americans and constructed in Japan out of American material and superintended by an American mechanic.

Granting of Injunctions May Cause Strike to Spread

By Associated Press. Chicago, June 29.—A new feature in the teamsters' strike was expected to develop today in the filing by the Employers' Association before Judge Holdom in the superior court, of an application for fourteen injunctions restraining express concerns from refusing to make deliveries to and from strike-bound houses. The injunctions are asked for on the ground that the defendants have violated the city ordinance pertaining to public cartage by refusing to make deliveries to or from concerns involved in the strike. This ordinance provides that the licensed express men shall be required to deliver loads to any part of the city and shall not discriminate against any person, firm or corporation. Violation of the ordinance may be followed by a revocation of the license of the express men. Nearly 5,000 express drivers are ready to strike the moment they are asked to carry goods to strike-affected firms. The union officials have notified their employers to this effect. Several of the transfer companies were prepared to fight the granting of the injunction, contending that it would be certain to precipitate a strike of their drivers.

The body has not been recovered. Several cards showing membership in the International Association of Structural Iron Workers were found. One had been issued in Cleveland, another in Cincinnati and a third in Chicago.

The eight-oar freshmen race started at 11:40. Harvard got the best of the start.
